INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL P. T. A.

The first regular meeting of the Intermediate P. T. A. was held on Friday afternoon at the Intermediate School on Third street.

A splendid musical program consisting of selections by the Boys' orchestra, choruses by the Seventh and Eighth grade girls, and by the Girls' Glee Club was given under the direction of Miss Ella White Foster, musical director of the schools.

A large amount of business was transacted, including the adoption of the constitution as amended by a committee comprising Professor A. M. Brooks, Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, Mrs. E. D. Ward and Mrs. Plummer Van Zant.

Plans were made for giving an art exhibit and tea to raise funds to purchase pictures for the school. Miss Merta Herbert, supervisor of drawing and painting, was appointed chairman of the committee to be in charge.

Plans were also made for a planting day on which to beautify the school grounds.

The unfilled offices were voted on and filled, the official board now comprises Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president; Prof. A. M. Brooks, first vice-president; Mrs. Frank Hester, second vice-president; Mrs. E. A. Emery, third vice-president; Mrs. Robert Wilson, recording secretary; Miss Merta Herbert, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jessie B. Mock, treasurer; Mrs. William Justema, auditor; Mrs. Charles H. Toll, parlimentarian. Mrs. C. D. Lusby was appointed chairman of membership.

A large attendance was present and thirty new members joined the association at this first meeting.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir Co. held its annual meeting last Monday evening. The report of the board of directors showed over $5,000 expended during the past year for extensions of mains and other improvements and a satisfactory condition of the treasury. The following directors for the present year were elected: J. C. Sherer (president), P. A. C. Moore, J. L. McComber, J. L. Denny, Frank Campbell. Mr. C. E. Parker was re-appointed secretary.

DISTRICT MEETING I. O. O. F.

The district meeting called for Monday last in the Odd Fellows' Hall on Broadway proved to be very pleasant and instructive.

Ernest Rich, Recording Secretary, took it upon himself to count the number of visitors as they passed through the doors but the task was like counting the spots on a leopard, so when he had counted about two hundred he gave up his position and let the balance enter at will. Needless to say, the speeches were all excellent and, in fact, the program as a whole very good. Those who delivered the speeches were representatives from the following lodges: East Side Lodge, Los Angeles; Seaside Lodge, Santa Monica; Hollywood Lodge, Hollywood; Palms Lodge, Palms; Redondo Lodge, Redondo; Moneta Lodge, Moneta; Inglewood Lodge, Inglewood. Song by Brother Hardesty of East Side Lodge; remarks by D. D. G. M. Ira E. Brown of Hollywood; remarks by Rev. C. R. Norton of Glendale; song by Brother Gould of East Side Lodge of Los Angeles; remarks by Brother Carlson of East Side Lodge. Past Grand Master Geo. Stockwell, in a very neat speech during the evening, presented to Mr. John A. Roper, in behalf of Glendale Lodge No. 388, a solid gold pin, appropriately engraved and of beautiful design, as a token of the high esteem in which he is held throughout the entire lodge of Odd Fellows and for the sixty years he has been a faithful member of the same.

Mr. Roper is generally equal to any emergency and can make as neat a speech as anyone when called upon, but on this occasion he was so taken by surprise that his words were few and far between, but somehow he managed in a way to properly acknowledge the gift and will always treasure it among those that he already possesses and so proudly shows to his friends.

District Deputy Grand Master Ira E. Brown of Hollywood caused his brothers no little anxiety over his tardiness, not showing up until the banquet was begun. But he explained matters in a hurry and they were at ease. He was a little late in starting from home, and so the more he thought of how worried they would all be and how disappointed if he was not there to help them dispose of the feed, the faster he went. Well, when pretty close to his destination he got a whiff of the coffee and beans, etc., and forgot the speed limit and went at the rate of about forty miles an hour. And thereby hangs the tale.

Our City Marshal, Mr. Miller, who, by the way, is a member of Glendale Lodge, was out on his usual evening jaunt not looking for anybody in particular and in the meantime getting his appetite up. It seems strange, but in some way or other at this juncture the two brothers happened to meet. Mr. Miller volunteered to escort Mr. Brown into Glendale and the latter, not knowing of Mr. Miller's official station in life, consented willingly. We can't say positively how matters were adjusted, but it wasn't long before both parties were sitting at the table along with their brothers and enjoying the repast of coffee, beans, weiners, bread and butter, apples, salad, pickles and olives, and just as good friends as ever. Glendale Lodge had prepared lunch for about 400 but as there was about 300 present there was abundance of food left, and this, as is the custom of all Odd Fellows' Lodges, was sent to any needy family.

After the tables had been cleared and good-night had been said, the visitors all departed for their various homes, feeling that they had been royally treated and with the memory of a most pleasant evening stored away. The local members likewise adjourned to their homes, glad to know that their guests so heartily appreciated the good time prepared for them and in turn took such an active part in entertaining.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

On Thursday the district meeting of the Congress of Mothers was held in Symphony Hall, Los Angeles. Glendale was well represented both in the audience and on the program. Delegates from our various P. T. A.'s were present.

The morning session was devoted to business but in the afternoon a program of broad and interesting topics was enjoyed. Music was rendered by the Manual Arts High School Orchestra. The following excellent addresses by the best of speakers were heard. The National Congress of Mothers was discussed by Mrs. Harry Houston of Los Angeles, the Relation of Relation of Boards of Education to the Congress of Mothers was discussed by Charles S. Schwan, member of Pomona Board of Education; "Lessons From the George Junior Republic" was the topic of an address given by G. C. Waterhaus, superintendent of that institution. The Neglected Class was the topic of a speech made by Mrs. L. M. Vance, founder of the Working Boys' Club in Los Angeles. An interesting address on "The Boys' Club" was given by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of the Glendale Parent-Teacher Federation. "How To Reach the Independent Father and Mother" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. E. H. Noe, historian of Los Angeles Parent-Teacher Federation. I. D. Jaynes, first vice-president of the Parent-Teacher Federation in Buena Park, led a talk on "Motion Pictures for Educational Purposes." "Children's Rights" was the broad subject discussed by C. D. Chamberlin, president of the Normal School Parent-Teacher Federation.

The violin solo by Cecil Crandall, accompanied by Carleton Padelford, both of Glendale, was enthusiastically received and encored.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ELECTED.

C. O. Pulliam and C. W. Young were elected trustees of Glendale Union High school, and David Black was elected trustee of the Glendale City Grammar school district at the election last Friday. The election was a quiet affair, inasmuch as these gentlemen had no opposition. Mr. Pulliam has served a three-year term on the Board and Mr. Young has been filling a vacancy caused by the death of one of the trustees a year ago. The method of conducting school affairs has been very satisfactory to the patrons of the school, and though Mr. Pulliam and Mr. Young would gladly have made way for some one else they were urged to be candidates for re-election in order that the Board might carry on plans now on foot for improvements in the school equipment. Mr. Pulliam has been a resident of Glendale for the past six years and has the welfare of our city and our schools at heart. Mr. Young resides at Eagle Rock and is city clerk of that city. The other members of the Board of Trustees of Glendale Union High school are Dwight Griswold of Tropico, Dan Campbell of Casa Verdugo and Dr. A. L. Bryant of Glendale. The trustees are elected at large, but it has always been arranged that each part of the district is represented.

Mr. Black, who is the new member of the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Grammar schools, is very well fitted for such a position. He was born in Scotland, but spent most of his life in Illinois, coming to Glendale three years ago. Mr. Black takes the place of Mr. Sternberg on the Board. The other members are A. B. Heacock and C. S. Westlake.

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Interclass Contest.

The Inter-class contest held at the High School auditorium, Friday evening, was one of the most successful and pleasing events of the school year. The attendance was good, as at all school entertainments,—a testimony to the interest which the people of Glendale feel in the public school. There was much friendly rivalry between the classes as to the excellence of the work of the respective contestants, the beauty of the class booths and the strength of the vocal cords of the members of the various classes.

The booths were all beautifully decorated and the judges had a difficult task in determining which should receive the prize. The Freshman booth was the largest and was decorated in red and white crepe paper pennants. The students were dressed to represent small children and carried out the idea more fully by making the most noise. The Sophomore booth was in the form of a flower and was decorated in palms and pepper boughs and red crepe paper flowers. "15" in red electric lights added to the beauty and helped to win the prize for this booth. The Sophomore boys wore green vests and the girls wore middy blouses trimmed in red and green. The Junior booth was a bower of white and green and resembled an aeroplane. The students were dressed in white and their yells and songs were excellent. The Senior class very appropriately wore caps and gowns and their booth was decorated in orange and red, the sides being covered with butterflies in these colors.

The classes were represented in the contest by the following, who gave original themes: Freshman, Carol Willisford, "War, Its Cost and Folly;" Sophomore, Leslie Tarr, "Government Ownership of Railways;" Junior, Jennie Boring, "Child Labor;" Senior, Alma Turner, "Labor." The judges were Irvin D. Perry, head of the department of English of the Los Angeles High School; Mr. Cryer, a prominent Los Angeles attorney, and Mrs. Dorsie, assistant superintendent of the Los Angeles schools. The prize was awarded to Miss Jennie Boring of the Junior class.

While the judges were deliberating, the Mandolin club gave several excellent selections.

Miss Boring will represent Glendale Union High in the county contest in South Pasadena, April 25.

Senior Dance.

The Club House on the corner of Brand boulevard and Third street was filled with a merry throng of dancers on Saturday evening, when the Senior Class of Glendale High School and its friends gathered there in response to the forty dainty invitations previously issued.

The large drawing room was a golden bower of blossoms. Banks of California poppies, the class flower, filled the immense fireplace, concealed the mantel and peeked from every nook and crevice, while orange and black, the class colors, prevailed in every detail. Each light was converted into a half-opened poppy which cast its soft glow over the exquisite appointments. In the east alcove was hung the class banner, surmounted by immense artificial poppies.

The south parlor was in red and black in honor of G. U. H. S. Red Japanese lanterns shaded the lights,

POPULAR CONCERT.

The Peoples Orchestra gave two numbers by local composers last Sunday. "O Golden Sun," by Miss Grace Adele Freebey, was sung by Mrs. Emma Porter Makinson. The orchestration for the piece was made by Mr. A. D. Hunter, who is also a local composer and teacher. The overture to "Alidor," by Mr. Alfredo Jannotta, one of the oldest and most respected musicians in Los Angeles, was received by an enthusiastic audience.

Other numbers that were greatly appreciated were the Tancredi Overture, by Rossini, a concerto for organ and orchestra by Horatio Parker, which was played by Mr. W. F. Skeel and the orchestra and a suite entitled "From My Youth," by Mr. Mortimer Wilson, a young American composer.

Two well-known soloists will appear on the program next Sunday which, alone, should insure a well-filled house. Mr. Anthony Carlson will sing "Das Thal" (The Valley), by Richard Strauss. "Abide With Me" will be sung by Mrs. Minnie Hance. Orchestral numbers are the Euterpe Overture, Sylvan Suite, The Bartered Bride, and Valse Triste.

LIBRARY NOTES.

Two hundred and sixty-nine books have been returned from the bindery in first-class condition, many of them popular fiction which will be welcomed back in circulation.

A number of new reference books have been procured. Among them are "The Part Modern Women Are Taking In America" (a book interesting especially to women and well worth reading), and the "Life of Livingstone," both in juvenile and adult form, which has been greatly in demand, and the complete works of Joaquin Miller, our late California poet.

Among the new books are also some of the latest fiction, which may be procured without delay by paying five cents, which will place your name on the reserve list.

GLENDALE CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

Tuttle & Hopkins, 616 Delta building, have been commissioned to prepare plans for the Carnegie Library building to be erected at Glendale. The sketches accepted by the library board provide for a one-story and basement brick building, 36x70 feet. It will contain general and children's reading rooms, librarian's room, lobby and reference room. There will be a furnace room and lavatories in the basement and later a lecture room and reading room will be finished up. The building will cost about $12,500 and will have pressed brick facing, galvanized iron cornice, tile loggia, composition roofing, pine rim, plumbing, electric wiring, heating.—Builder and Contractor.

AT "QUINTA ANNA."

Mrs. Anna L. Smith of Riverdale Drive entertained at "Quinta Anna," her quaintly named home, with an elaborately planned dinner party on Sunday.

Honored guests were Mrs. Katherine Seppenfeld and Miss Tekla Brodin of Los Angeles, who will leave on May 1st for an extensive tour of Europe.

Other guests were Miss Olia Gill, Mrs. Margaret Payne, Mr. L. B. Valla and Mr. Henry Seppenfeld.

The beautiful home was made a veritable bower of roses shading from palest pink to deepest crimson, artistically arranged with ferns.

In every detail the occasion was one of the prettiest of the spring events.

WHITE AND GOLD.

White and gold was the keynote of the dainty decorations carried out in a most effective manner in the home of Mrs. Scott W. Johnson of Brand boulevard when she entertained twenty-eight of her friends at cards on Friday evening.

Daffodils and ferns were artistically grouped, while gold and white score-cards furthered the idea. Cards were enjoyed until a late hour. Miss Lillian Mills and Mr. H. Boyce scored high.

A course supper which carried out the color scheme in a most delectable manner was served at small tables.

Miss Amy Johnson aided her mother in receiving and serving.

CHOIR PARTY.

On Saturday evening St. Mark's Episcopal choir gathered at the home of Mrs. R. H. Wells, the choir mother, 1504 West Broadway.

Clusters of crimson carnations and ferns were artistically used in decoration. The evening was made pleasant with music and games. Miss C. Bailey and Mr. H. R. Moore received prizes in a clever and amusing guessing contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robertson were special guests of the evening. Mr. Robertson, accompanied by his wife, delighted his fellow-guests by rendering several vocal solos, which added greatly to the evening's enjoyment.

A dainty supper was prettily served, buffet style, in the dining-room, where the decorations of crimson and green were effectively carried out.

Miss Harriet Wells and Miss Katherine Wells assisted their mother during the evening.

WEEK-END HOUSE-PARTY.

Foremost among the week's social events was the jolly week-end house-party which gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. McIntyre of Cedar street on Saturday afternoon.

Dinner was served at seven-thirty at a table beautiful in its appointments and decorations of dark-red carnations grouped with ferns. Clever place-cards appropriate to each individual guest marked covers arranged for ten.

Following dinner social intercourse made the evening pass quickly and merrily.

Sunday morning was devoted to an auto trip which terminated for lunch at the McIntyre ranch on Verdugo road, where the afternoon was pleasantly enjoyed.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Crow of San Jacinto, Mr. and Mrs. Burn Griffin of Venice, Mrs. Anne Wilson of Los Angeles, Mrs. Blanche Martin of Glendale, Miss Ella Wyatt of Venice and Mr. Francis Sharer of San Jacinto.

SIXTH STREET SCHOOL P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Sixth Street Parent-Teacher Federation will be held on Wednesday, April 16, at 3:15 in the school house.

At the special request of the president, Mrs. John Hunchberger, Mrs. W. C. Mushet, federation president of Women's Clubs, has consented to address the association. Her subject will be 'The Twentieth Century Child—Who Is Responsible?" Mrs. Mushet is one of the best lecturers in California and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Excellent music and refreshments will add to the pleasures of the afternoon.

GLENDALE'S NEW INDUSTRY.

Under the name of Pure Fruit Juice company a new industry has been started at this place. The object of the company is to extract from fruit—oranges, lemons, grapes, etc.—their juices and pack them in their natural state.

The juices are extracted by machinery perfected by the company and treated by a scientific secret method so as to keep indefinitely.

Their product is not cooked, pasteurized or fermented; it is not sweetened, nor has it any chemicals or preservatives added, so it is actually in its natural state as it comes from the fruit.

The company has taken quarters in the packing house at the corner of Lomita and Glendale avenues, where they expect before long to have a good-sized force at work. They are already turning out a considerable quantity of juice, and have their plant laid out for rapid growth.

The fruit used is all sound fruit. All decayed fruit is thrown away and the rest is all cut open and every piece examined before made into juice. The possibilities for this new industry are great. The fruit itself will decay and its juices evaporate, making it valueless. The extracted juices will keep fresh indefinitely and shrinkage cannot reduce its value.

Glendale can indeed be proud to have secured such an industry.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Legrand of 1442 West Third street entertained in compliment to their daughter, Miss Michelle Legrand.

Their home was bright with shower bouquets of shell pink carnations arranged with fern.

The evening was made pleasant with music and cards. Miss Frances Miller of Tropico distinguished herself with brilliant piano selections, which were enthusiastically received.

Dainty refreshments were served, delicately furthering the color scheme of pink. Folded in the center of each napkin was a card which investigation proved to be tiny photographs of the honor guest and Mr. Leon Davis of Los Angeles, announcing their engagement. The wedding will probably be solemnized during the month of June.

The twenty-three guests who shared the pleasant evening included a number of friends from out of town.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The Tuesday Afternoon club met at Masonic Hall as usual last Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was given over to business, reports of the Monrovia convention being heard and discussed. A reading by Miss Lillian Shropshire, entitled, "The Return of the Hoe," was enjoyed very much. Mrs. Charles Homer Temple gave a reading, or rather a "Message to the Mothers of Men," which was very beautifully and earnestly given and found tender response in the hearts of all mothers present.

The club ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club will entertain the delegates of the W. C. T. U. at the Baptist church, corner Third and Louise streets, after the meeting, April 24, 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. Tea and cake will be served. Mrs. H. H. Martin is chairman of the committee in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. W. W. McElroy and Mrs. A. R. Taylor.

The literary section will meet at the home of Mrs. Warren Roberts, 707 West Seventh street, next Tuesday afternoon, April 15, at 2:30 o'clock. Emerson's "The Oversoul" will be discussed.

THE ELADNELG.

Miss Catharine Lewis of Kenwood street was hostess on Thursday evening, when the members of the Eladnelg club gathered in her home for their regular bi-monthly meeting.

The evening was pleasantly passed playing five hundred, Miss Lorraine Mitchell and Mr. Seymour Thompson making the highest scores, for which they received handsome prizes.

At a late hour supper was served at prettily arranged tables, bowls of jonquils making a spring-like effect.

Several special guests enjoyed the evening. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Myrtle and Miss Emma Pulliam, 148 Kenwood street, on the evening of April 17th.

LOUIS MANUEL MATHEUS.

In making cookies do not roll and cut them out in the old way, but take the whole batch of dough, form it in a long roll about an inch in diameter and cut in one inch slices with a sharp knife. Place them in a pan two inches apart, flattening each slice slightly with the hand. The heat of the baking melts the slices to the required thickness and the cookies are absolutely round. This is quicker than the old way and there are no bits of dough left.

FROZEN COFFEE CUSTARD.

One-half pint of cold, strong coffee, 1 pint of whipping cream, 1 cup of sugar, 1 pint of milk, 4 eggs. Scald the milk in a double boiler. Beat up the eggs and sugar together until light, add them to the hot milk, stir over the fire for a few minutes, then remove and cool. Stir in the whipped cream and the cold coffee, then freeze.

RHUBARB AND PINEAPPLE BAVARIAN CREAM.

Soak one-half of a box of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water for half an hour, meanwhile press a large cupful of sweetened stewed rhubarb through a colander and add the gelatin that has been dissolved in a little hot rhubarb; turning the mixture into a bowl set in a pan of ice water and as soon as it begins to harden beat it with a cream whip. Fold in one cupful of shredded pineapple and a half pint of whipped cream; turn it into individual molds and when firm serve on lace-paper doilies garnished with thin slices of candied pineapple.

A GOOD BAKED OMELET.

Six eggs, one cupful of hot milk, three tablespoonfuls of cold milk, one tablespoonful of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of salt. Beat the yolks of the eggs and the salt together until creamy. Boil the milk and slowly stir in the cornstarch, which has been mixed with the cold milk. Add the butter and beat until well blended. Stir this into the yolks of the eggs and lightly fold in the whites of the eggs, which have been beaten very stiff. Pour into a buttered pan and bake in a slow oven for twenty-five minutes.

SOUTHERN CORN-MEAL EGG BREAD.

One cupful of corn meal; 1 egg; 1 cupful of sour milk; 1 tablespoonful of melted lard or butter; one-half teaspoonful of baking powder; one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; one fourth teaspoonful of baking soda. Mix the soda, salt and baking powder with the corn meal, add the egg well beaten, the milk and the melted lard or butter, and beat briskly for one minute. Turn into a well-greased, sizzling hot pan and bake in a moderately hot oven. This bread should be served as soon as it is taken from the oven.

A TASTY MINT SHERBET.

Two tablespoonfuls of finely cut mint leaves, two lemons, three oranges, two cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of water, the white of one egg, one cupful of whipped cream. Soak the mint leaves and the grated rinds of the lemons in the orange and lemon juices for half an hour. Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes, then pour at once on the other ingredients. When cold strain into the freezer and add the white of egg, stiffly beaten, and the cream. Freeze in the usual manner and serve in slender sherbet glasses garnished with tiny sprigs of mint.

DAINTY CHOCOLATE CUSTARDS.

Four tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate; four cupfuls of milk; four eggs; one cupful of sugar; two teaspoonfuls of vanilla extract. Put the chocolate and one cupful of the milk into a double boiler and cook until smooth, then add the rest of the milk, and when hot, pour it over the sugar, which has been mixed with the yolks of the eggs. Return to the fire and stir until it begins to thicken; it must not boil. Add the vanilla extract, and, when cool, pour into small glasses. Beat up the whites of the eggs until stiff, then beat into them two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Divide this meringue on the top of the custards.

ONE OF THE BEST NUT CANDIES.

One and one-half cupfuls of New Orleans molasses, three-fourths cupful of granulated sugar, three-fourths cupful of butter, one-half pound of figs, one cupful of Pecan nut meats, one and three-fourths cupfuls of Brazil nut meats, one and one-fourth cupfuls of English walnut meats, a pinch of baking soda. Boil the sugar and molasses, as for molasses candy, until nearly done, then add the butter, and continue boiling until it becomes brittle when a little of it is tried in cold water. Add the figs, which have been scraped and chopped fine, and the soda; also add the nuts, which should be carefully selected. The nuts should not be chopped. When well mixed pour into a buttered bread-pan of medium size. When cool cut around the edge and turn out. Divide into slices.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

A cloth dipped in ammonia will often remove stains from the collar of an overcoat.

Save soapsuds if you have a garden, for they form a very useful manure for flowers, shrubs and vegetables.

Keep the wax-coated boxes in which crackers are packed, for they make excellent polishers for irons.

Clever little utensils of small price made of hinged strips of sheet iron come for handling hot dishes in the kitchen.

Nothing is more objectionable than a sponge that has become slimy. To remedy this soak it in strong borax water, wringing it out, and renewing the water until clean.

When making pies, before baking, cut two or three pieces of macaroni in the center of the crust, so as to allow the steam to escape without the juice running over the top.

When making lemonade dissolve the sugar in a little hot water before adding it to the lemon juice. It will not sink and will sweeten it more quickly.

When pressing a seam or crease in a wool garment use damp wrapping paper instead of a damp cloth between the garment and the iron. The pressing will be more satisfactorily done.

When washing the grater use a small stiff brush, passing diagonally up and down, pressing the bristles through the holes, and when necessary brush the under side. Rinse with hot water and drain.

To keep your lace door panels from shrinking after removing them from the rods, wash the glass. Then wash and starch the lace, slip in the rods immediately and replace the panel on the door. Care should be observed to pull the lace straight, tacking down the sides if necessary to stretch the panel. Allow it to dry in position.

Before shaving maple sugar, warm it in the oven; then the work is accomplished in a very short time.

Many people do not know that left-handed scissors may be purchased. Only those who are left-handed realize the inconvenience of the right-handed variety.

Ask for empty scythe boxes at the hardware store. These, after being painted inside and out, make good flower boxes for windows or piazza.

The odor of sweet grass baskets may be renewed by holding the basket over steam or, still better, by pouring boiling water over the article and allowing it to dry.

A good way to grow crocuses indoors is to put a thin layer of absorbent cotton on a dinner plate. Place the crocus bulbs on this, and cover with another layer of cotton about two inches deep. Keep the underneath layer damp, and from time to time, as the top cotton gets dusty, add a little fresh cotton. Put the plate where it will get plenty of sunshine, and the crocuses will grow through the cotton. When the flowers are in bloom they make a pretty centerpiece for the table.

Newspapers are naturally moth proof, as moths refuse to penetrate printer's ink. Winter clothing covered with many wrappings of newspapers and with the final wrapping sealed so that it has no openings, is moth proof, yet is is well to put camphor or moth balls inside the clothing in this newspaper case.

THE ECONOMICAL READER.

A man who was too economical to purchase or to subscribe for a paper sent his little boy to borrow the one taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4.90 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His father, who ran to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed-wire fence ran into that, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4.00 pair of pants.

The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the entire litter. In her haste she dropped a $25 set of false teeth. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled milk and into the parlor, ruining a brand-new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off'n four fine shirts.—Bernie (Mo.) Star.

IN READINESS.

"What are you doing here?" asked Hickenlooper, as he perceived Rippleigh standing outside the White House. "Looking for an office, like the rest of these chaps,"

"No, sirree," said Rippleigh. "I believe that the office should seek the man. I'm just standing here waiting, so that when the office comes out on the search I'll be where it can find me."—Harper's Bazar.

CULTIVATING FRIENDSHIP.

If a man does not make new acquaintance as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendship in constant repair.—Samuel Johnson.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES.

In the early days of our forefathers the public schools in the rural districts were used as places in which to hold public entertainments, debates and social gatherings. In recent years the custom has been quite general to hold school rooms more in reserve; but now with the coming of modern ideas broad-minded men suggest that the school room be used for public purposes. U. G. Manning, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of South Bend, Ind., writes under date of January 28 as follows:

"The use of school buildings for public purposes of this kind was a new thing here, and the first year we secured an agreement with the school board to open up the buildings provided we would pay for janitor service. Later we induced them to dispense with that charge, and this year have induced them to go a step farther and make a small appropriation for promoting the work. We also induced them to put in a portable motiograph of the latest type, so that moving pictures and stereopticon entertainments could be given. We have a motion picture film exchange here which makes a specialty of educational films, and, therefore, whenever possible we endeavor to secure for the machine films that are closely related to the subject to be presented by the speaker.

"The social center work in some cities includes a wide variety of features, including using the building for recreation purposes. Here, however, we have merely attempted to organize the people in the neighborhoods into a sort of civic club, where they can get together, have music, singing, debates and addresses, with an occasional social evening at which refreshments are served. The work, therefore, is more educational than recreational, and now has, we think, so shown its value as to justify pushing it actively hereafter, which we intend to do.

"We have the hearty co-operation of our present school authorities and also the co-operation of the teachers in the buildings where these clubs have been established, and feel that we have a good beginning in a line of work that will prove of high value to the community. The ultimate ideal is to make our school buildings a sort of university for the people where they can go to secure enlightenment and inspiration on all of the matters that have a bearing on individual and community welfare."

OUR AMBASSADOR TO ST. JAMES.

To the Editor:—How unconsciously as individuals we absorb errors. This is true as individuals—equally so as nations. Had it been proclaimed by the President and backed by Congressional action that no one but a man of extreme wealth should hold the position of Ambassador to England the pronouncement would have been resented by the people, and yet practically we drifted into doing that very thing.

Our late Ambassador, now deceased, was in many respects an able representative and met the duties in a dignified way. Our home papers, filled columns and pages with eulogiums of his standing as a citizen, and ability as an official, while but a single American paper coming under our observation, while agreeing with the others as to personal character and ability, had the independence to say that the wealth Mr. Reid possessed and so lavishly displayed in his residence abroad disqualified him for fitly representing a people of simple habits and pursuits and a form of government deriving its power from this same common people who resent mere style and display in official life and have high regard for citizen manhood only.

Let nothing herein said be tortured into any reflection on the late Ambassador, but rather let it stand as approbative of the action of President Wilson, who has seen proper to send to St. James a typical business man, Mr. Page, who will find a line of duties other than to lavishly entertain in a social way the flotsam and jetsam of decaying dynasties. "Oh, we must build a big house for our Ambassador and let him entertain in style; other nations do this!" is the cry of the wealthy class. Nonsense. The very fact that other nations do this is the very reason why we should not. No plea is made for stinginess along this line. We should pay our men reasonably well, but to set them up in the hotel business to entertain the snobbish globe-trotters who spend most of their time and money abroad is not the business of this government, nor is it necessary to our standing among the nations. The fact is, we are so impregnable in our manufactures and farm products, so absolutely independent, that we might call in all our foreign representatives and suffer no financial loss.

Courtesy, of course, will prevent this, but let us use these men in our own way, and free from foreign dictation. We often hear it said: "Washington is a foreign city." In a sense it is. Shall we help the President to recapture it?

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

while pennants of every size, shape and denomination were hung from the walls and beams.

During the evening punch was served from daintily adorned tables on the verandas, which were lighted with gaily hued lanterns and made still more inviting with cozy nooks and corners.

Patrons and patronesses were Professor and Mrs. R. D. White, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Davis.

The committee in charge comprised Miss Alpha Clement, Miss Rae Davis and Miss Ruth Brown of the Class of '13.

The Glendale High School baseball team won its second league game on Saturday, by defeating the strong South Pasadena aggregation. The final score was 5 to 4. With the exception of three rather glaring errors, which gave the South Pasadena team two of its runs, the Glendale boys showed first-class form for this early in the season. Farner and Bidwell divided the pitching honors about evenly, each allowing only three hits, and tightening up perfectly with men on bases. Fishel and McIver proved the batting stars of the game, each securing a three-bagger and a single. Farner, Bidwell and Goode are also credited with singles. The next league game is with the hard-hitting Pasadena team, on the home grounds, next Saturday. Come out and see the home team win.

The tenth year English spelling club challenged the twelfth year club to a match Thursday of this week, immediately after school.

The Brahm van den Berg piano recital occurs this (Thursday) evening. The High School's share in this concert will be used to help pay the Victrola debt.

The High School tennis team defeated Manual Arts Saturday, 16 to 3. The team is one of the fastest teams in Southern California and has only had one defeat, that coming from Los Angeles High. The players are Sadler, Robertshaw, Nelson and Balthis. Next Saturday they play South Pasadena on their home grounds.

About forty dollars has been contributed by the High School to the flood sufferers in the East.

Dr. Carter, secretary of the International Peace Society, addressed a fair-sized audience on "World-wide Peace" at the High School Auditorium Tuesday night. He made an eloquent appeal for peace, but said that we would have to have industrial peace first. Those in attendance were well repaid for the time, as Mr. Carter proved to be a pleasing and witty orator. Mrs. Gridley of this city introduced Mr. Carter. Colonel William West of the Kalem company sang "Peace," and responded to an encore by singing "Annie Laurie."

A good game of baseball was played on the High School grounds Wednesday after school, when the local High School team crossed bats with the Occidental College team. The game ended with a score of 3 to 2 in favor of Glendale. Fred Blackington held down the pitcher's box for the locals.

WEST GLENDALE.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, with Mrs. Pert, were among those who enjoyed Sunday in a quiet way at Griffith Park. The resort was crowded and tables were at a premium. Many autos from different towns around Los Angeles were noted.

Little Carroll Toll, who has been spending the past few months in the Hawaiian Islands with his faithful nurse, Helen, arrived safely home last week. Master Carroll, who is not three years old, left for the islands with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Holl. Master Maynard Toll and nurse. The family spent about a month there, when the duties of Mr. Toll as vice-president of the Security Savings Bank in Los Angeles called them home. Little Carroll's health was so benefited by the change of climate that he was left in charge of his nurse, and had a glorious time, but, just like the big folks, so glad to get home.

Just one year ago the Queen Esthers of the West Glendale M. E. Church boasted of having six members, and their teacher, Miss Clara Midcalf, promised them that when their number had swelled to twenty they would be treated to a birthday party. Now at the end of the year the class has an enrollment of twenty-three, with three honorary members besides. Miss Midcalf kept her promise and invited the class to enjoy the afternoon of Saturday, April 5, at her home, 1520 Oak street. At the same time the birthdays of the hostess, Rev. Walton and Mrs. Henderson were celebrated. The young people had a jolly good time with games, music, etc., to pass the hours away. Cake and lemonade were served as refreshments.

Mr. Sharar and family of the Sharar Realty Co. o fLos Angeles, with Miss Sharar and friend, Mrs. Rothrock of Glendale, motored to Pasadena recently and enjoyed the surrounding country, also Busch's gardens. Mrs. Rothrock and Mrs. Sharar will soon leave for their home in Illinois.

Friends here of Miss Ethel Penna will be glad to know that her health is so greatly improved she will soon be able to leave Barlow Sanitarium, where she has been for some time.

Nothing slow about our town—if it is not new families coming in all the time, it is new homes going up. Several can be seen at the present time in the course of construction, and hints of several more in the future.

SAN FERNANDO BARBECUE.

The Mission Land company of San Fernando Valley gave a big barbecue to the public, Saturday, April 5. The feast was one rarely enjoyed on such occasions. Ten beeves had been roasted to satisfy the hunger of the thousands who thronged the grounds at the noon hour. The Porter Hotel, which is said to have been completed at a cost of $75,000, was thrown open that day to the public. The land surrounding this neat little city is very fertile, and everything connected with our neighbor town bears the appearance of prosperity.

FRUIT GROWERS' DEPARTMENT

FARM HORSE TO HIS MASTER.

By Elizabeth Clarke Hardy,

Oh, Master dear, the blistering sun
Beats down upon my head,
As round and round the furrowed field,
With weary steps I tread;
You ride behind me on the plow,—
I'm glad that you can ride;
And willingly I toil for you
With patience and with pride.

The dust drifts up in stifling clouds
And chokes and blinds me sore,
My collar chafes my sweltering neck
As it has done before;
And long and sultry are the hours
Since I have had a drink,
How parched and dry my throat must be,
Dear Master, only think!

I saw you seek a shady place
And drink a cooling draught,
I heard the water trickle down
As from the stream you quaffed.
If I could only plunge my nose
In water sweet and cool;
If I could quench my burning thirst
A moment at the pool!

Oh, Master dear, we serve you well,
But oh, if you would think,
When oftentimes you quench your thirst,
How much we need a drink;
And if a moment, now and then,
You'd rest us in the shade,
We'd feel for all our patient toil
That we were richly paid.

WILL HEAT WITHOUT SMUDGE.

Orange growers of Pomona are devising a way of heating orchards without using the objectionable smudge. A committee was recently appointed by the Council of that city to investigate the merits of this mode of heating.

THE OVERHEAD CHECK.

Dr. D. P. Yonkerman, a veterinarian of Michigan, has some excellent things to say with regard to the ever-draw checkrein. He sums up these points of injury liable to arise to the horse:

First—That in hot weather or during severe exertion it may produce an attack of giddiness or apoplexy often terminating in death.

Second—That it causes pain and distress in breathing.

Third—That it tends to distort the upper part of the windpipe and causes roaring.

Fourth—That it frets the temper of nervous, excitable horses and shortens the lives of all.

When we consider that it fulfills no useful purpose, but is only a hobby or style capable of much discomfort and injury, it should be and is condemned by all all well-informed horse owners.

There is just as much reason for putting an overhead check on a cow, a dog, a girl, a boy, or a goose as there is for its use on the horse; imagine these checked up as we see so many horses and the absurdity as well as the inhumanity of it manifests itself at once.

DAMAGED THIRD OF CROP.

While many sections of Southern California suffered an almost total loss of the orange crop there were a few exceptions. The packing-house of the La Verne Orange Growers' Association at Lordsburg is one of the few which has been operated in the citrus belt since the freeze. Much of the time a larger force than in former years has been employed, there being about 300 people on the pay roll. The La Verne district, which had heretofore been regarded as frostless, was damaged to the extent of about one-third the crop his year, but inasmuch as the crop was heavy the results of the freezing are not greatly felt here.

SAN FERNANDO ORANGES.

The writer made a trip to San Fernando Saturday and was pleased to note that many of the orange orchards in that vicinity were not harmed by January's freeze. The San Fernando citizens were very kind in giving out free of charge large numbers of oranges.

OVERHEAD IRRIGATION.

The overhead irrigation system installed by David Overholtzer on his ranch on Babilio avenue, near Covina, was put in operation the latter part of the week, and from every appearance, is a complete success.

Overholtzer is pumping about thirty-five inches with a deep well pump, and is forcing the water with a centrifugal pump into his steel pipes. From these pipes the water circulates above the orchard, in a system of galvanized pipes, perforated. The demonstration showed that his pressure is good. The streams pour out to a distance of from eight to ten feet, and thoroughly drench the trees inside and out.

It has the same effect of heavy rain. The floor of the orchard is level and absorbs the water fast enough so that there is no run-off. Mr. Overholtzer can regulate the flow in its amount, or change the direction of the jets to any angle. The whole orchard gets an even amount of water. A good irrigation can be made in twenty-four hours.—Fruit World.

THE COWBOY'S PRAYER.

O Lord, I've never lived where churches grow;
I love creation better as it stood
That day You finished it so long ago
And looked upon your work and called it good.
I know that others find You in the light
That's sifted down through tinted window panes,
And yet, I seem to feel You near to-night
In this dim, quiet starlight on the plains.

I thank You, Lord, that I am placed so well;
That you have made my freedom so complete;
That I am no slave of whistle, clock and bell,
Or weak-eyed prisoner of wall and street.
Just let me live my life as I've begun
And give me work that's open to the sky;
Make me a pardner of the wind and sun
And I won't ask a life that's soft and high.

Let me be easy on the man that's down
And make me square and generous with all;
I'm careless sometimes, Lord, when I'm in town,
But never let them say I'm mean or small.
Make me as big and open as the plains,
As honest as the horse between my knees,
Clean as the wind that blows, behind the rains;
Free as the hawk that circles down the breeze.

Forgive me, Lord, when sometimes I forget;
You understand the reasons that are hid,
You know about the things that gall and fret,
You know me better than my mother did.
Just keep an eye on all that's done and said,
Just right me sometimes when I turn aside,
And guide me on the long, grim trail ahead
That stretches upward toward the Great Divide.

—Charles B. Clark, Jr.

SEPARATING THE FROZEN.

In years when oranges have been injured by cold weather the grower has had difficulty in separating the frozen from the sound fruit. The alcohol specific gravity method was entirely satisfactory, but altogether too expensive; the sound fruit sank in the alcohol while the frozen fruit with its empty cells floated off. Water, of course, floats all, but a new process has been devised by which the fruit is dropped into a current of water so gauged that the light, injured fruit comes to the surface and floats off while the sounder, heavier fruit, slower to rise, is carried underneath a screen which passes it on with the supply of good fruit.

The National Orange company of Riverside, owned by the Chases, is responsible for the invention. Instead of taking advantage of its great possibilities the company has made its use free to orange growers of the country. In actual practice it is working almost to perfection.

FARMERS REFUSE AID.

More than 40 per cent of all the farmers interviewed by government representatives believe that experience is the only way to learn how to farm.

This percentage told agents recently sent out by the department of agriculture that they took no stock in farmers' institutes, demonstration agents, farm papers or department of agriculture publications as aids in helping to make the soil more productive.

Starting on motorcycles or on foot, four department agents traveled through thirteen states, visiting every farmer along the way and asking questions. This inquiry revealed the fact that of the farmers who got department of agriculture bulletins, 84 per cent read them and 48 per cent followed the suggestions.

PROOF ENOUGH.

While passing along a muddy street the other morning I heard a little chap say to his sister:

"It don't ever rain in heaven, does it, Mary?"

"In course it does, ye little chump!" the girl replied. "There's where it's all a-comin' from, ain't it?"

CAREFUL TRANSPORTATION.

Henry was very proud of the new kittens, and fetched them to show the visitors. His mother heard them coming along the hall, and alarmed at the noise of he procession, called out, "Don't hurt the kittens, Henry."

"No, mother," came the reassuring answer, "I'm carrying them carefully by the stems."

Three feeds of milk a day for the new calf are better than the same amount in two feeds.

"Three cheers, boys," cried Cox. "All together—let her go!"

They gave a rousing round of cheers that brought Captain Warner rushing back into the room.

"Come, come, gentlemen! Remember where you are. This ain't Washington. What are you feeling so ornery about?"

"We were just welcoming an old friend," explained Cox.

"And, besides, cap," interposed Hart, "ain't this Thanksgiving eve? How about them pumpkin pies we ordered and paid for in good United States money?"

"That's a fact," answered the commissary. "Well, the cook tackled 'em, according to directions. They ought to be pretty nigh done by this time. Queer grub, that."

At this juncture the door opened and immediately a joyous commotion ensued.

"Pie, pie! Oh, pumpkin pie! Attention, all! Salute the pastry! Let the noble pumpkin approach its doom with military honors."

The prisoners drew up in line opposite Captain Warner, while in marched a dignified old negress with a red bandanna turban on her head, bearing aloft in both hands a platter containing an enormous pie. This she solemnly deposited on the table, then turned and made her exit in silence, saluted profoundly by the company.

"Chaplain Hart will ask a blessing—will you join us, Captain Warner?"

"No, thank you," replied the commissary, making his exit. "The atmosphere's getting too Yankeefied to suit me, and I'll beg to be excused."

Knife in hand, Hart stood in a attitude of devotion at the head of the table.

"All I can say is, Lord bless this 'ere pie"—then, as an expression of horror and disgust overspread his homely face—"and the Lord help us after we've eaten it! Why, durn my skin, if they ain't gone and put an upper crust on a pumpkin pie! And the pumpkin cut into hunks as big as your fist, without no milk nor sugar, and not half baked, neither."

"The devil! Those Virginia darkies are good cooks, but they don't know what pumpkin pie is."

Deacon Hart carved the pie and distributed slabs all around, remarking philosophically:

"The blacks must be freed and educated. Think of a whole race in such benighted ignorance as this!"

The attack had scarcely begun when Captain Warner once more appeared at the door, making a sign which all the imprisoned officers instantly understood.

"Stir up the animals, boys!" whispered Hart. "Visitors coming."

"Petticoats, too," added Cox, looking out.

A pretty, vivacious young woman, escorted by a sinister looking Confederate officer, who singled out Lieutenant Bedloe with a malicious sneer and received a flashing look of silent scorn and defiance in return, were shown in by the commissary.

"This is the Potomac room, Miss Mason. Gentlemen, a southern lady pays you the honor of a visit."

Captain Cox bowed courteously, while all his comrades stood in the background.

"Madam, be assured of our grateful appreciation. It is a long time since we have seen a woman's face. We are not exactly fixed up for company, but"— At this point he looked into her shining eyes and in sudden overwhelming recognition exclaimed: "Great heavens! Marie—Miss Mason—I am not mistaken?"

"No, Tom," she answered sweetly, "you are not mistaken. Oh, what a horrid place!"

"Yes, you find us at a disadvantage. I say 'us,' for, as you see, Ralph is here, too."

"Oh, dear; how terrible! You poor, foolish boys! And how is it with you, Ralph?"

"Thank you—not much worse than when I parted from you at Lexington."

"What a pair of rash, headstrong boys! Why did you desert the south?"

"Wasn't it the south that did the deserting? Oh, but don't let us talk politics."

"It just breaks my heart to see you here, both of you—yes, all of you," said the young woman, looking around sympathetically. Then she took from under her cloak a cigar box and acouple of bottles wrapped in a newspaper and set them on the table beside the sorry looking wreck of the pumpkin pie. "I've brought you a few cigars and things to cheer you up. Wasn't I thoughtful?"

"Bless your pretty face and gentle heart, miss," Deacon Hart said fervently. "What a pity you're secesh!"

"Well, she seems to lean toward the Union side anyway," whispered Colonel Coggswell, as Captain Cox and the fair visitor conversed in low, earnest tones, with their heads very close together.

The Union men had gradually dropped behind the screen of a wooden partition at the far end of the room, while Captain Warner and the other Confederate officer stood just outside the door.

"Why, they have all gone," said the young woman, blushing slightly.

"Yes, we do that when any one has a visitor. Marie, we are alone for a moment."

She buried her face in her handkerchief and began to weep.

"To think we should meet again like this!"

"You did not come here just to say that, Marie. You are fickle, but not deliberately cruel."

"It is you who are cruel, when you talk like that. Oh, Tom! You know I love you."

"Do I? How?"

"I have come here to save you."

"To save me?"

"Yes—or to tell you how you can be saved, I think. General Winder is coming."

"General Winder, the provost marshal of Richmond? You say he is coming here to Libby prison?"

"Yes, right now—this evening. I coaxed him to get me permission for this little first visit. You know he is an old friend of father's, and he wouldn't refuse me anything."

"Then, there's something in the wind?"

"It's an exchange of prisoners, I think. Anyway, I heard some talk about selecting six officers from your room here. It must be for exchange. You shall be one of the six, Tom."

"And Hunt?"

"Yes, poor Ralph too. That's what I told General Winder. He shook his head and looked very serious, but I know he won't refuse me this, especially as it makes no difference to him whom he selects."

"Good for you, Marie! What can I say to you, now?"

"Hush, they are coming!" she said, pointing to the door.

"Then, goodby, Marie! God bless you."

"I'm sorry," interrupted Captain Warner, "but the time is up."

The girl smiled jauntily through her tears.

"Oh, dear! Goodby, Tom. Goodby, Ralph. Gentlemen, goodby, all of you. I'm so sorry! But you'll try and make the best of it, won't you?"

"Of course we will, bless your kind little heart," responded Colonel Coggswell, coming forward again. "And let me tell you, 'mademoiselle, you've completed the Johnnies' work—by capturing our hearts."

"Three cheers for the American girl, anyhow!" proposed Hart.

They were given with a will, and Marie Mason, going out with honors, was rejoined by Captain Edward Thornton of the Confederate secret service, who had watched the scene with a peculiarly cynical smile.

General Winder, provost marshal of Richmond, in full uniform and accompanied by a staff officer, entered and stood at the head of the rough table.

General Winder then briefly announced the intelligence that a Confederate cruiser having fallen into the hands of the Federal authorities, the latter proposed putting the officers and crew on trial for piracy, threatening them with summary execution.
